Cyco AutoManager Products Provide Strong Data Management Capabilities for AutoCAD Customers

ATLANTA, March 15, 2005 /PRNewswire-FirstCall via COMTEX/ -- Cyco Software, announced today full support for AutoCAD(R) 2006 next generation design software from Autodesk, Inc. (Nasdaq: ADSK), the world's leading software and services company for the building, manufacturing, infrastructure, digital media and wireless data services fields. AutoCAD 2006 software allows users to create, manage and share design information faster, to compete and win. Cyco AutoManager(R) Meridian and Cyco AutoManager TeamWork provide full support for AutoCAD 2006 to help Cyco Software customers around the world save time and money throughout the entire project lifecycle by adding powerful data management capabilities. This will help companies realize their design ideas faster and maintain a competitive edge in their marketplace.

Companies can win in their markets by leveraging new and existing engineering documentation throughout their organization. Cyco AutoManager products enable these companies, large and small, to swiftly leverage critical engineering data by connecting people and strategically integrating design information to autonomous enterprise workgroups, such as production, maintenance and procurement.

With full support for AutoCAD 2006, Cyco AutoManager Meridian and Cyco AutoManager TeamWork provide complete support for organizations to immediately retrieve data to facilitate decision-making and accomplish production schedules. Key features include:

- Full Support of AutoCAD's enhanced Sheet Set Manager by managing their reference and property information
- Strong CAD integration (with title blocks, secure document storage, and more)
- Automatic bill of materials management
- Rapid viewing, printing and comparing of AutoCAD designs
- Immediate launch to AutoCAD from within Cyco AutoManager software and vice versa
- Configurable workflow, versioning and security for AutoCAD 2006 files

"By integrating with the latest features in AutoCAD 2006, Cyco Software enables our joint customers to take advantage of the latest design software technology," said Jim Quanci, who heads the global Autodesk Developer Network. "We are pleased to have the strong support of Cyco AutoManager products for AutoCAD 2006."

"Cyco Software has been developing software applications for the latest releases of AutoCAD for many years, providing customers with a seamless upgrade while maintaining existing investments in Cyco Software's Engineering Data Management products," says Eric Bouwer, president and CEO of Cyco Software. "We are excited to offer our customers and software subscribers worldwide full support for AutoCAD 2006. This will allow them to realize important efficiency enhancements."
